Law School accepting applications for LL.M. in dispute resolution

The MU Law School, which provides national leadership in integrating dispute resolution theory and practice throughout its curriculum, is now accepting applications for its LL.M. Program in Dispute Resolution.

Nine full-time faculty members, including nationally known experts on mediation and arbitration, focus significantly on dispute resolution – probably more faculty than at any other law school.

The Law School offers an LL.M. Degree in Dispute Resolution for students who have completed the first degree in law. Students may enroll full-time or part-time. Full-time students can complete the program in one academic year. Applicants submitting complete files by March 1 will receive notification in April. For more information, contact program director John Lande at 573-882-3914 or landej@missouri.edu.

The Law School also has developed a collaboration with the MU School of Journalism, which is an international leader in its field. The two schools offer four dual degree programs: J.D.-M.A., J.D.-Ph.D., LL.M.-M.A., and LL.M.-Ph.D. The collaboration is led by Law School Prof. Richard C. Reuben and Journalism School Prof. Michael J. Grinfeld, both of whom have law degrees and extensive journalism experience.

Parties successful

The BCBA holiday parties were a success, with about 100 bar members and guests attending the Dec. 12 event at Missouri Manor hosted by Ron Bartlett and his wife Lyria. Attendees were treated to music by Tom Andes, lots of good food catered by Jack's Gourmet Restaurant, and ample libations.

About 50 bar members attended the women's holiday party on Dec. 5 at Mary Carnahan's home, co-hosted by Betty Wilson. Attendees donated gifts and money for distribution through the Voluntary Action Center and the Drug Court.

Course fee hiked

Effective Jan. 1 the fee for the Focus on Kids class will increase by $5 to $40 per participant. There will be a corresponding increase in the filing fee for family law cases involving minor children.

Ethics CLE credit for Jan. 9 program

One hour of ethics CLE credit will be given for the BCBA program on Wednesday, Jan. 9.

Lunch will be served at the Boone Tavern, 811 E. Walnut St., beginning at 11:30 a.m., and the program will begin at noon.

RSVP: To reserve your spot, contact BCBA Secretary Phebe LaMar at 443-3141 or lamar@smithlewis.com by 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 8.

Jeff Parshall and Wally Bley will discuss ex parte contacts with past and present employees of corporate lawsuit parties. Time permitting, ex parte contacts with the court also will be discussed.

Note: The meal price is now $8. Checks should be made payable to "Boone Tavern."

Deadline for composite extended

The deadline for having photographs taken for the new bar composite is being extended through January because many bar members have not yet scheduled sittings.

Call Roger Berg's Creative Photo at 875-1841 to schedule a sitting. Walk-ins also will be accepted, but it is best to call.

The new Creative Photo studio is located at 2201 Old 63 S., about one-half mile south of Stadium Blvd., on the west side of the road. Sittings take only about five minutes.

So far about 70 BCBA members have had sittings, as compared with 190 photos on the last composite done in 1995.

2002 BCBA dues are payable now

2002 dues of $25 per lawyer are now payable. Members whose dues have not been paid by April 30 will be stricken from the membership rolls.

Dues are waived for sitting and retired judges of Boone and Callaway counties and for members who have been licensed in Missouri for at least 50 years or who have reached the age of 75.

Please use the form below to claim a first-time waiver or send your dues payments to Treasurer Ed Orr. It is requested that firms of two or more lawyers use a single form for all lawyers in the firm whose dues are being paid.
